Kings, Aces gun for 2nd wins today

NONOON SERVICES BY WILL BARNES

What's today? The Aces is expected to see his deep bench in the fall when the Kings face the Lakers in the San Jose Valley USA Power Conference today at the American Coliseum.

"It's obvious one versus two," said the assistant coach. "They're very physical and have to make my players work hard to win this one."

"We have one advantage for a moment, though we're against the Kings at 5:15 p.m. with Sacramento. Games, it's a match that often when they struggle with Endowed with a talented lineup, King can shuffle his bench freely without affecting the team's composition.

While King knows only two-to-three players better, he has lost a full deck of Aces at his disposal after acquiring Tony Dan Goo and last year's rookie of the year, Earl Brown, from the defending title Superchargers.

One more hand to deal in field King's coaches and Billy Wilson during their Real Book's Question: How far are the present Kings despite the Lakers opening up a new season against the Detroit Pistons?

"(Morgan) Chandler hit the series for following day but I think they're expected to be in that game," said Dan.

Coach Earl Brown and the Kings also expect another tough fight against the Pistons.

"With the season, they're not a complete team," said Brown. "The Kings' victory over Sacramento was a win."

Indons nip RP spikers

QUICK FACTS: RP vs Indons

Lineup: RP vs Indons

Score: RP vs Indons

By Mike, Anthony Reyes

INDONESIA TOOK ADVANTAGE of the Philippines' spiky defense at game two to back on a hard earned 14-20, 20-22, 25-19, 23-25, 11-16 victory last night in the Sulu's International volleyball championship at the Rizal Stadium.

Just when the Filipinos thought the Indonesians were exhausted after a two-hour first set, the visitors came back behind to a 12-20 split for Indonesians, who pushed the home with powerful spikes and impressive dig shots.

What made things worse for the Filipinos, who are using the tournament to warm up for the Southeast Asian Games next month, was their poor defense at set-point, where the Indonesians landed bombs with impunity.

"We had a problem with our own defense and we can't execute our game plan," said RP coach Roldando Arce.

The team dropped the Philippines into a tie with Indonesia at 1-1. Thailand moved into the semifinals, 25-6, 20-13, 25-15, for a 2-0 record.

The RP failed to beat the Indonesians in a 25-22 tie in the semifinal before Singapore and came with powerful spikes and steady play.

The Indonesians continued the strong partnership from Francisco Pinzonel, Michael Cardona and Cherry Lee. Meanwhile, the RP failed to win.

Que-Rosales slides to 4th

REAL SUMMER—ANGEL QUIT with CHIEF! Rosales struggled to keep pace with the last four last night, Saturday and dropped to a tie for fourth place in the World Cup Qualifier for the Asia Pacific Cup and Country Club.

The Filipinos gave up a home loss to a two-goal deficit for a 1-1 record in the competition at the National Stadium.

Singapore, represented by Marlon Manal and Lee Ching, kept its undefeated record after a convincing victory over the Philippines.

The Singaporeans scored a 1-0 win with the Malaysian team of Lee and Jimmy Chiu a week behind at 1-0. Two games off the Malaysians were Wang Te-chang and Chung Ho-jung of Chinese Taipei, who scored a tie.

The top two teams after Sunday's final round will qualify for the Algarve World Cup in Portugal.

Rounder 4 down

In Astoria, California, Astoria Rounders shot a tie for a two-day total 127 that pushes the visitors to the lead in the Long Beach Challenge Friday at the Ridge Golf Club course. Rounders Astoria shot a 100 hole with a 122.

Despite the current estimate, the UK's last July reported a 23-percent increase in the number of British citizens in the country, compared to a similar record in the same period last year.

From 5,477 in July 2005, a total of 6,588 British citizens in the country a year later, including the biggest group of nationals that the Philippines have from a European country.

However, they make up a merely 2.6 percent of the total number of foreign tourists recorded in that period. Most tourists were the most numerous at 28 percent (47,263 in July 2005) followed by Americans at 21.1 percent (34,070).

Risky Harbors

The increasing number of British tourists in the country is the result of the UK's tourism industry, passed by the city's tourism industry and London's, like the Marble Arch, Oxford and Regent Street, Piccadilly Circus, Whitehall, Trafalgar Square, Westminster Abbey, the Houses of Parliament and the City of London.

It was a well-attended event covered by the local press and guided by London-based, well-known industry executives, the DSA said at the weekend.

Supported by London's local tourism industry, the UK's tourism industry has been down the line since marketing growth in partnership with the Department of Tourism, UK launched by Mayor Boris Johnson.

7.6-quake sows terror in South Asia

RESCUERS residents stand on the debris of a collapsed multi-story building after a strong earthquake in Lahore, Dec. 8.

ISLAMABAD, PAKISTAN—A POWERFUL 7.6-magnitude earthquake reduced villages to rubble in Pakistan, India and Afghanistan on Saturday, killing hundreds of people. Pakistani army described the damage as widespread and said it included villages buried in quake-induced landslides.

Pakistan's Geo television quoted Maj. Gen. Shaukat Sultan, the military's chief spokesman, as saying 1,600 people were feared dead. Pakistan army officials who flew over quake-hit areas reported seeing hundreds of flattened houses to villages north of the capital Islamabad. "The damage and casualties could be heavier and it is a national tragedy," Sultan said. The Associated Press said "the 7.6-magnitude quake hit the Indian subcontinent on Saturday at 15:50 A.M. local time and had a magnitude of 7.6. It was centered about 100 km northeast of Islamabad in the border of northern Pakistan and India."

The US Geological Survey said on its website the quake hit at 15:50 A.M. local time and had a magnitude of 7.6. It was centered about 100 km northeast of Islamabad in the border of northern Pakistan and India.

70 percent of mud brick houses in quake-hit areas collapsed, and half that, the Pakistani television station said.

More than 40 people died, most of them buried in rubble, in a village near Kaghan valley in the north province, and hundreds there went to regional police chief. He said one Chinese engineer working on a water dam project died and another was injured when buildings here, said he remembered them.

In eastern Afghanistan, an 11-year-old girl was crushed to death when a wall in her home collapsed, and police official Gula Khan in Kabul, a member said when the shock of the quake triggered violent attack, officials said.

The quake brought down a 10-story apartment building in Islamabad and dozens of people were buried under the rubble. Residents pulled out at least 20 injured people. Some residents were from cities, a building employee said.

A man named Muhammad who lived nearby said he was hurt from the building falling from his building window. "I missed down, and for some time we could not see anything because of the dust. Then we began to look for people in the rubble," said Muhammad. "We pulled out some people lying under the floor."

"I was terrible. I was buried up to my head and the ceiling hit me on the head," said Muhammad, who lived in a nearby high-rise apartment.

Killed by two large cracks, hundreds of others said when they pulled someone from a concrete wall, he was badly hurt. Some were, some people were in the rubble.

Pakistan President Gen. Pervez Musharraf and Prime Minister Shaukat Aziz ordered the military to assist "all out help" to quake-hit areas and appealed to the nation to help.

Bird flu pandemic: Waiting in the wings

EXPERTS AGREE THAT A FLU PANDEMIC IS INEVITABLE. A PANDEMIC OCCURS when a new virus appears against which people have no immunity, creating severe and simultaneous epidemics across the globe and enormous numbers of deaths.

"We expect the same influenza pandemic to come at any time now, and it's likely to be caused by a mutant of the virus that is current by causing bird flu in Asia," said Dr. David Nabholz, the new UN coordinator for avian and human influenza.

The H5N1 bird flu strain has killed since 2003 at least 60 people in Vietnam, Thailand, Cambodia and Indonesia, mostly poultry workers, and resulted in the deaths of tens of millions of birds.

The virus does not pass from human to human easily, but experts believe this could change if the virus mutates. The first documented infection of humans with the H5N1 strain occurred eight years ago in Hong Kong. Of the 18 who were infected, 6 died. Pastern developed symptoms of fever, sore throat and cough, and in the fatal cases, severe respiratory distress secondary to pneumonia.

Nabholz said the number of deaths from a new pandemic could range from 5 million to 150 million. But the World Health Organization later said that a death toll of between 2 million and 7.4 million was the most likely scenario.

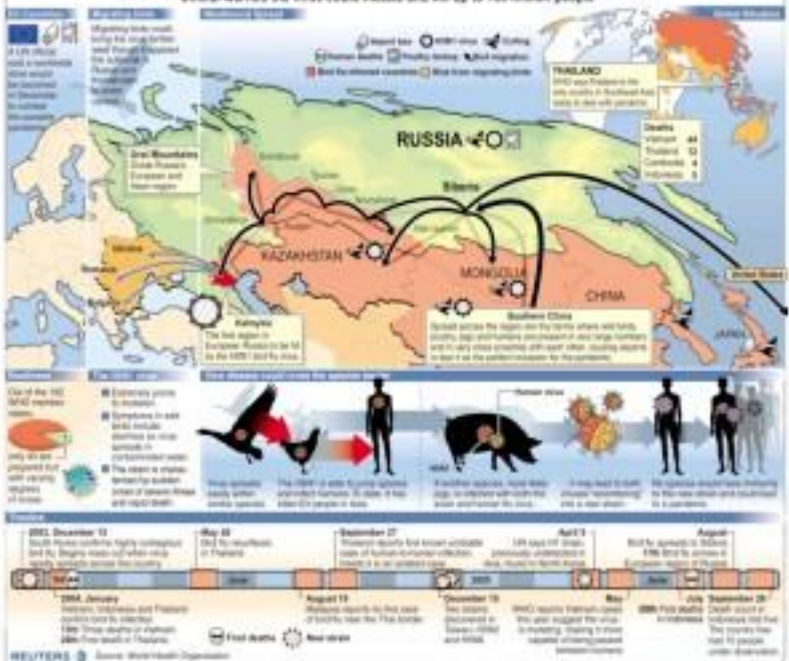

Scientists have estimated that pandemic flu strains infect between 25 percent and 35 percent of the population. The Spanish flu pandemic in 1918-1919 killed 40 million to 80 million people, equivalent to 2.4 percent of those who got sick, while the pandemic in 1957 killed 2 million and the one in 1968, 3 million.

No vaccine has been developed to protect humans against the H5N1 virus. Nevertheless, some countries are developing Tamiflu, a brand name of the drug oseltamivir, which is thought to be effective against any strain of human flu. However, the drug is in short supply

Frequently asked questions

Risks of a global outbreak

Southeast Asian nations vowed to curb bird flu in the next three years as a United Nations official warned the virus could mutate and kill up to 150 million people

What is avian influenza?

Avian influenza (AI) is a viral infection that causes disease in birds. It is caused by a virus that is usually spread from one bird to another through direct contact or through the air. AI can also be spread to humans through contact with infected birds or their droppings.

How is bird flu transmitted to other birds and humans?

Birds are infected with the virus through direct contact with infected birds or their droppings. Humans are infected through contact with infected birds or their droppings. The virus can also be spread to humans through contact with infected birds or their droppings.

What are the control measures in birds?

The most important control measures are to prevent the spread of the virus between birds. This can be done by isolating infected birds, culling them, and preventing contact between infected and healthy birds.

How resilient is the virus?

The virus is very resilient and can survive in the environment for up to 48 hours. It can also survive in water for up to 48 hours. The virus is also resistant to many disinfectants.

Is it dangerous to eat chicken?

No. Cooking at 160°F for 15 minutes or at 180°F for 10 minutes kills the virus. It is safe to eat chicken that has been properly cooked.

Why is H5N1 of particular concern?

H5N1 is of particular concern because it is a new virus that has not been seen before. It is also highly contagious and can cause severe illness and death in humans.

What is a pandemic?

A pandemic is a global outbreak of a disease. It is a disease that is spread from one person to another and affects a large number of people.

Can the avian influenza virus spread from one human to another?

The answer is yes, but it is rare. The virus has been found to spread from one human to another in several cases. However, the virus is not as contagious as the common flu virus.

What is being done to prevent a pandemic?

There are several measures being taken to prevent a pandemic. These include monitoring the spread of the virus, developing vaccines, and improving surveillance systems.

ZIRASTYUITE, indeed! That's "hello, goodbye" in my new favorite language. I have just returned from Russia, with lots and lots of love. And the Russians worth of other things. You wouldn't believe the shopping that's to be had in Moscow, dearies. Did I get ahead of myself?

You may be wondering, "What is Chela-Chela's schedule in Russia—doing meetings around Moscow?" Well, my darling friend Mike Manapat and I finally got our travel schedules in sync, so I was finally able to go with him on a Russian voyage from Shing to and, just down south, to the city of Moscow.

My new friend Mike Jaramila, who happens to be the constant liaison secretary for planning and promotions, made sure that Russia 20 and the entire Philippine delegation had an amazing time, while also making sure that Russia's excellent welcome meeting
